GOVERNOR NEWSOM TURNS THE TABLES

As we discussed in the December 2021 Publisher's Statement, our ultraconservative Supreme Court recently upheld the draconian Texas law that outlaws most abortions after a "fetal heartbeat" is detected (at about six weeks). The law allows private citizens with no legal standing—meaning no personal interests involved—to sue any doctor or individual who participates in an abortion.

In what is certain to be a shock to conservatives and Second Amendment absolutists everywhere, California Governor Gavin Newsom has instructed his staff to work on a similar law that would allow private citizens to sue anyone who manufactures, sells or distributes assault weapons or ghost gun kits in California. Ghost gun kits are assemble-at-home kits designed to evade all gun laws—they are untraceable and can be purchased online or at gun shows without background checks. If the antiabortion law in Texas becomes the new standard for protecting "sanctity of life," then California's law should likewise be adopted, to protect the hundreds of people shot every single day in America and mitigate the recent surge in homicides from gun violence.

The lesson here: Be careful of the sword you wield, because it just might be double-edged. In this case, that means California's example, if passed, could be adopted by other blue states. Thankfully, Governor Newsom has also promised that if the Supreme Court overturns Roe v. Wade, California will remain a sanctuary state for all Americans needing a legal abortion.

The whole issue of what amounts to vigilante justice by private lawsuit is a questionable new development that should be carefully considered before becoming the de facto law of the land. If private citizens without standing can sue against any policy they oppose—from abortion to guns to vaccine mandates to immigration policy—it will turn into litigation over legislation, and the ensuing nightmare would swamp our already overburdened courts. But the Republicans pioneered this radical new weapon, so if it stands, Democrats will have no choice but to arm up as well.

“PRIME” TIME FOR THE WORKING CLASS

UNLIKE AMAZON DELIVERIES, BETTER WAGES AND BENEFITS WON'T ARRIVE OVERNIGHT, BUT THEY'RE ON THE WAY IF WE FIGHT.

We’ve learned a few things while struggling to emerge from two years of COVID-19. For example, Wall Street doesn’t keep the country going. Those who show up to work day after day do, even while risking their lives to do so. So-called front-line workers keep us going—the people who prepare your food, teach your children, provide your medical care and, yes, deliver mail and Chinese-made crap to your home even in the midst of a deadly pandemic.

When employees at an Amazon fulfillment center in Bessemer, Alabama, decided that better working and living conditions could only be obtained with unionization, the e-commerce giant went to war. Amazon, whose founder is now the second-richest man on Earth, spent millions on professional anti-union consultants before the 2021 unionization vote.

The $400-billion company propagandized workers into voting against their own best interests. Flyers and banners were posted throughout the Bessemer facility, “even in bathroom stalls,” according to the AFL-CIO. Hoping to stave off its first U.S. unionized workforce, Amazon texted anti-union messages to workers’ cell phones and personally interrogated them about their support for unionizing.

The company even “offered $1,000 to any employee who quit, which also would mean that they were not entitled to vote in the election,” the AFL-CIO charged. Another apparently legal tactic was conducting mandatory weekly intimidation sessions with management and hired anti-union goons, where employees were told that unionization would result in loss of pay, benefits and maybe even their jobs.

“These are meetings that are called by the company as they lecture to workers why a union is a bad thing,” professor of history, labor historian and author Nelson Lichtenstein told me. “They’re really closer to Maoist reeducation camps or Stalinist coercion methods than anything else.”

Amazon’s pressure campaign paid off. At the end of a two-month vote-by-mail election, the unionization initiative—originally supported by a majority of nearly 6,000 eligible employees—failed by a 2-to-1 margin. But crying foul, organizers from the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union (RWDSU) filed a protest with the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

To the surprise of many, the NLRB sided with the union. Amazon had proposed holding an in-person election at the Bessemer facility. With the pandemic in full gear, the RWDSU fought for all-mail balloting, which in addition would ease worker concerns that Amazon itself was running the election and monitoring the vote. The NLRB agreed, but the company pressed the U.S. Postal Service to install an unmarked mailbox in the parking lot, in view of security cameras, inside a tent with signs reading, “SPEAK FOR YOURSELF! MAIL YOUR BALLOT HERE.” The NLRB found that the company had ignored the agency’s explicit directive “by unilaterally requisitioning the installation of a postal mailbox” for the election, so it ordered a new vote.

Lichtenstein asked, “How much does Amazon have to pay for its violation of labor law, which is creating this new election? Zero! Anti-union consultants simply tell employers, ‘Look, do whatever you can do. If you have to pay a fine, big deal.’… Once Amazon realized the [first] election would be overturned, they once again began to hold those captive-audience meetings.”

The distinguished scholar added, “The other sad fact is that something like 95% of all rerun elections fail. It’s even harder the second time around.”

Front-line workers nationwide have had enough. They are quitting jobs with low pay, insufficient benefits and terrible—often dangerous—working conditions. Organizing workers to collectively fight back is difficult. Lichtenstein cited a similar effort by Starbucks to prevent “60 or 70 baristas who are trying to form a union.” Those workers recently pulled it off at a Starbucks store in Buffalo, New York. If it happens at one fulfillment center or coffee shop, before you know it, all of the company’s employees will want living wages and better working conditions.

The cost of violating the nation’s feeble labor laws is worth it for large companies. That’s why Congressional Democrats, hoping to make anti-union tactics by Big Business unlawful, introduced the Protecting the Right to Organize (PRO) Act. But the bill is unlikely to overcome GOP opposition.

“What needs to happen,” Lichtenstein advised, “is make management come to the conclusion that the lesser evil, the lesser problem in their business model, would be recognizing the union rather than facing the ire of either an aroused public or government action.” He noted that Amazon, Facebook and other big firms are facing a “reinvigoration of antitrust law in the Biden Administration,” which he described as “actually very pro-labor.”

Those companies could use some friends, Lichtenstein argued, “and an essential ally is labor.” He recalled that similar alliances prevented the breakup of big chain stores in the 1930s and at General Motors in the 1950s. “Companies said to labor, ‘We’ll recognize you if you let us stay big.’ And that happened!”

At a moment when little comes as a surprise, stranger things have occurred. American workers are recognizing—and acting on—their worth in an ever-tightening labor market. The billionaires who own massive companies would be wise to notice who actually keeps them running, especially during the deadliest pandemic in 100 years. H

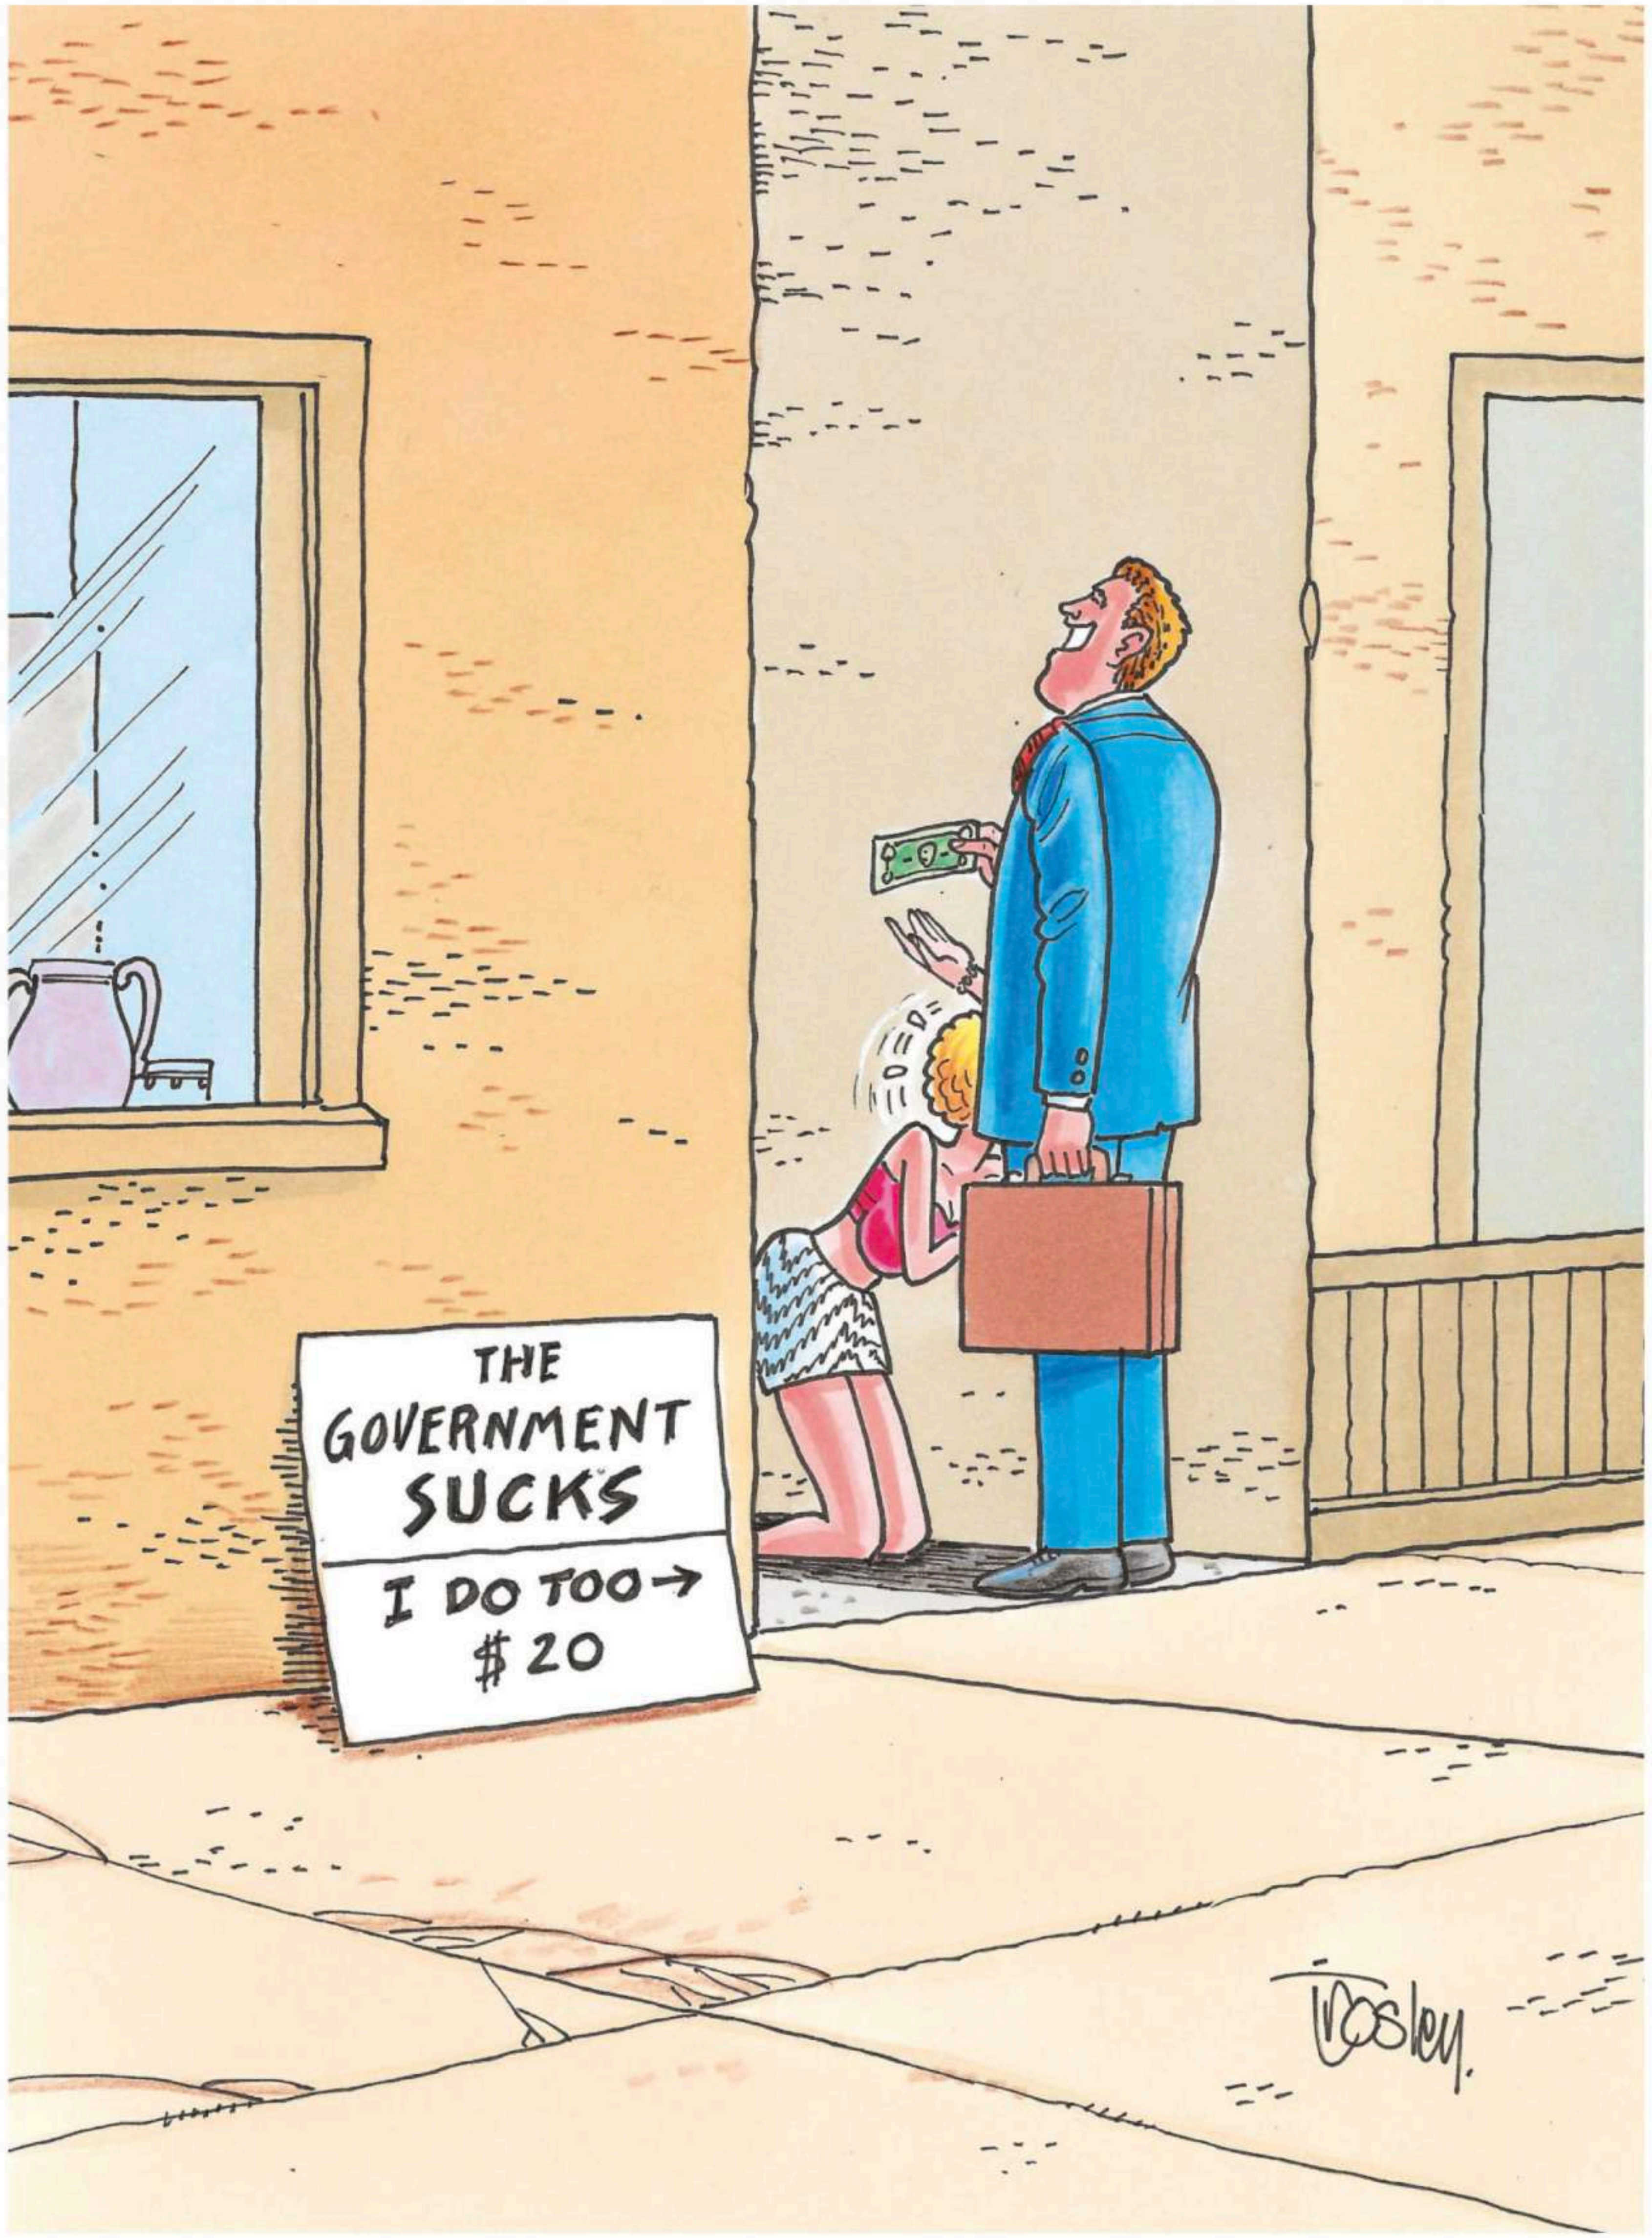
“I think, therefore I am…a Democrat!”



Aided by human intervention, nature can produce some strange hybrid creatures, like the liger (a lion bred with a tiger) or the zorse (a zebra bred with a horse). Worth noting about the zorse is that they can be difficult to handle and very strong—which is an apt description for another type of hybrid creature, this one living in the zoo of American politics: the conservative Democrat—like Joe Manchin, the oddball U.S. senator from West Virginia. He's classified as a Democrat, but he's covered in Republican stripes and known to be extremely muleheaded and difficult to handle. In fact, Mitch McConnell just outright invited Manchin to join the Republican Party, stating that he would be "more comfortable."

Case in point: In December Manchin lodged his big red-striped butt in the doorway to the Democrats' Build Back Better (BBB) bill, effectively making it DOA. With the Senate split 50-50, all it takes is one disloyal Democrat to vote no and kill a bill supported by the other 49 Democratic senators. This is not the first time Manchin has linked arms with Republicans to rain on the Democrats' parade. During the Trump Administration, he racked up a roughly 50-50 record—half of the time he voted with his fellow Democrats and half of the time with the GOP. A true hybrid creature, although sometimes he seems more like a schizophrenic coal-mining boss.

His ad campaign for the late Robert Byrd's Senate seat in 2010 featured Manchin loading a rifle and shooting holes in a Cap and Trade bill while promising to "take on Washington and this [Obama] administration to get the federal government off our backs"—the stock theme song of the GOP. He went on to oppose Obama's clean energy policies, especially reductions in coal mining, voted to defund Planned Parenthood and to ban abortions after 20 weeks. But he later urged Trump not to appoint a Justice to the Supreme Court who might overturn Roe v. Wade. In 2012 he would not endorse Obama for reelection. He's such a fence-straddler on so many issues, it's a wonder the splinters in his groin haven't festered and made him impotent.

In 2018 he joined Republicans in voting to water down the Dodd-Frank regulations adopted after the 2008 financial meltdown, designed to prevent another such implosion—a sellout to the insatiable pirates on Wall Street. He's a card-carrying member of the NRA that once gave him a "A" rating on gun non-control. But he joined Republican Senator Pat Toomey to introduce a bill strengthening background checks for gun sales.

Overall, Manchin voted for Trump's policies just over 50% of the time. He's dead set against legalization of marijuana and same-sex marriage, opposed the DREAM Act and supported Trump's border wall. He also voted for most of Trump's appointees and nominees, including Neil Gorsuch and Brett Kavanaugh to the Supreme Court and the egregious fossil fuel industry shill Scott Pruitt as EPA chief.

That he represents West Virginia is the core problem—Manchin is the only Democrat holding statewide office in a sea of red voters. West Virginia went for Trump by a whopping 69% to 30% for Biden in 2020. The state is coal mining central, of course, home to the hardiest of blue-collar workers, workers who used to be solidly in the Democratic camp. But when doing something serious to mitigate climate change became a focus of Democrats, that meant cutting back on coal, the dirtiest fuel of all, but also the lifeblood of West Virginia's stagnant economy. So Manchin has consistently voted against environmental protection policies, from regulating greenhouse gases to cuts in mercury pollution of waterways to supporting Trump's withdrawal from the Paris climate accord. "He's been nothing but a mouthpiece for the coal industry his whole public life," said Jim Sconyers, a West Virginia Sierra Club chairman, in 2011. But protecting the jobs of coal miners is not his only motivation; Manchin's deep pockets are stuffed with loot from Enersystems, a coal brokerage firm he founded in 1988. From 2011 to 2020, he received over $5 million in dividends from his shares in the company. And during the last electoral cycle he received more donations from the fossil fuel industry than any other senator. His fortune is as dirty as the coal he loves to burn.

The $1.8 trillion Build Back Better program that Manchin is blockading includes expansion of Medicaid and Obamacare, universal pre-kindergarten programs, the Child Tax Credit program, Medicare expanded to cover dental care, and many initiatives to increase renewable green energy resources and fight climate change and catastrophic weather events. In fact, the White House recently outlined ten important ways the Build Back Better framework will help Manchin's home state, including cutting taxes for families and workers, expanding health coverage, improved access to affordable education and training for well-paying jobs. Even the West Virginia Center on Budget and Policy is urging the senator to reconsider his stance.

Manchin supported Biden's infrastructure bill, but he cites inflation as a reason to cancel or curtail BBB. Inflation, now running near 7%, the highest rate in 39 years, is a genuine concern. Rich people can weather inflation easily; yet it is devastating to poorer people. But note that even though we've withdrawn from Afghanistan and largely ended the 20-year War on Terror, the U.S. Congress passed another gargantuan $768 billion "defense" budget last December—and nobody squawked about that extravagant inflationary pressure. Over ten years these bloated annual defense budgets would far exceed the costs of Build Back Better. Additionally, economists have stated that BBB would not add to inflation, citing the mechanisms in place designed to counter it, including interest rate hikes by the Federal Reserve.

Manchin has offered a counter-proposal to BBB that would include most everything Biden wants, except the expanded Child Tax Credit that would benefit his West Virginia constituents, some of the poorest in America. Approximately 350,000 children in West Virginia currently receive these benefits. If the program is allowed to expire, many of them will sink into abject poverty. Jim McKay, director of Prevent Child Abuse West Virginia, notes that Manchin's opposition "means more parents will have to leave a job they love because they can't afford the cost of child care for their children. West Virginia has several counties without a single licensed child-care center. That problem will now persist indefinitely." Manchin is also demanding that the whole ten-year program be funded from the get-go. How to do that? He has reportedly proposed rolling back some of Trump's tax cuts to the rich. But in another example of his chronic bipolar behavior, he has opposed raising the federal minimum wage to $15 per hour.

A member of the West Virginia Democratics executive committee, Walt Auvil, sums up Manchin's career: "If it does not personally benefit Joe, his major contributors and/or his family, he is unmoved." Which is what you would expect from an Asshole whose estimated $8.6 million personal fortune bloats with the profits from planet-wrecking coal.

SAVE OUR SAND

Tourists are the worst. Economically they're a necessary evil, but there are limits—and Spain is drawing the line at habitat destruction by way of wanton public fornication.

It's called "cruiser trampling" and threatens to destroy a protected natural wonder. Last November CNN reported that researchers had identified 298 "sex spots" throughout the Dunas de Maspalomas Special Nature Reserve, located on the Spanish island of Gran Canaria and known for its sweeping and majestic sand dunes.

They are one of the last remaining shifting dune systems in Europe and a favorite rest stop for migratory birds. Unfortunately, much to the chagrin of locals (and those poor birds), it's also a hot spot for foreign horndogs and their destructive libidos. A quickie under the stars is all well and good, but not at the expense of bird and plant species and the delicate ecosystem that sustains them.

No one loves sex al fresco more than us, but there's a right way and a wrong way to get it on in the great outdoors. For starters, this rule of thumb: If it's on UNESCO's World Heritage List, stay away. Look, but don't touch. Instead, seek out natural settings that feature sustainable infrastructure—raised paths, platforms, foot bridges, etc. High traffic areas are a risky gambit, so best stick to off-peak hours. Bring a flashlight!

The "Leave No Trace" ethos is Camping 101 and boils down to being a conscientious steward of our shared ecology. So if you're sexing, please pack out your used condoms, empty lube bottles and discarded home enema kits. No one, be you hiker or mountain lion, should have to deal with your erotic refuse.

But it would be unfair to put the onus squarely on tourists, who deserve a sexy place to call their own. Why not designate outdoor sites zoned specifically for the pure pleasure of public sex? It's a big planet, and there's room for everyone, even filthy animals like you.

STUPID SEXY KETCHUP!

The horror…the horror. Of sexy ketchup.

Every person has their line in the sand. For Adrian Shann of Hull (U.K.), that line was crossed when a Pizza Hut turned condiments into pornography. I mean, how else was he to interpret a bottle of ketchup whose lascivious packaging urges users to "Shake, Squeeze and Squirt" its shapely form? Goddammit, is this a family restaurant or what?

Seriously though, he actually filed a complaint over a ketchup bottle—and to their credit, the chain responded in earnest (via PopCulture.com): "I can only apologize if you were caused any offence or upset on your recent visit to our Hut; please know it is not our intention to make any of our guests feel uncomfortable. The wording on our ketchup is not meant to cause offence, and sorry if this was interpreted this way. This has been the labelling of all ketchup bottles in our restaurants for some time now, and I can only apologize if this impacted the enjoyment of…" Blah, blah, blah.

Let's just breeze past the fact that there are maniacs out there who are putting ketchup on pizza. With all this publicity, one might ponder how other condiments could benefit from a not-so-subliminal rebrand. If subtlety is dead and sex sells, then consider the following tagline pitches…

Mayonnaise: How about, "The white stuff you love to put in your mouth"? Too nuanced? Try this on for size: "Thick, creamy and dreamy."

Mustard: "America's favorite wiener accessory!" (Mic drop.)

Salsa. Let's go with "Lots of BANG for you and your gang" or the slightly more refined "THICC & chunky."

Frank's RedHot Sauce. Existing slogan: "I put that $#!t on everything." Perfection!

"You can't fight for your rights if you don't know what they are." —CHIEF JUSTICE JOHN ROBERTS, SUPREME COURT

A LOVER & A FIGHTER

If Mike Tyson's chauffeur claims the Baddest Man on the Planet said he might have murdered his opponent had he not fucked right before a fight, then we believe him. The champ clearly speaks from experience, and he's certainly not the first pugilist to take the edge off with a little of the ol' in-and-out.

As per The Sun UK, Iron Mike allegedly used sex to keep from maiming a challenger beyond recognition. His chauffeur at the time, Rudy Gonzalez, made all the arrangements and probably saved a life or two in the process. Quote: "He had to get laid to disengage some of [his] strength… so I had girls tucked away in bathrooms and changing rooms."

"Tucked away"? My friend, she's not a Mars bar you're saving for later. But I digress…

Like Mike, MMA mauler Ronda Rousey is a proponent of knocking one out before knocking someone out. In a 2012 Sporting News interview, Rousey admitted she didn't fuck to chill out so much as add fuel to the fire. "I mean, for girls it raises your testosterone, so I try to have as much sex as possible before a fight, actually."

Then there's the GOAT, Muhammad Ali, who reportedly wouldn't have sex within a six-week window of his next bout. Fascinating, right? One fighter fucks to calm down, one fucks to get amped up, and one doesn't fuck at all. So who is right? Is there any science to speak of on the effects of sex and combat sport?

The short answer: Nothing you can really hang your hat on, but some theories hold more water than others. Medically speaking, there is no evidence that sex helps or hinders you physiologically. Rather, it's the psychological effect of fulfilling our biological imperative—i.e., reproducing—that might handicap a fighter. If sex is a reward, then sex before a fight could kill your motivation to win.

It's a nice theory, but it's just that, a theory. And considering the trail of bodies that Ronda and Mike have left in their wake, we'd go so far as to suggest that fucking before fighting just might have its benefits. Come at me, bro!

THE JOYS OF PERIOD SEX

From the department of soul-crushing statistics, this eye-roller of a fact: According to The Sun UK, "Nearly half of women who have sex on their period say it gives them a heightened sense of pleasure but have been shamed for suggesting it." First, shame on anyone who shames women this way. And second, you idiots don't know what you're missing.

Yeah, that's right—HUSTLER is pro-period sex. Period sex is amazing. Period sex is wet. Period sex is squishy and viscous, just like great sex should be. Alas, outlandish and infantile hang-ups persist. To wit: In a survey of 2,000 women, only 15% said they have had sex while on their period, while a towering 70% have never even suggested it to their partner.

"I am not an anthropologist; I am a professional harlot. I create custom smut and facilitate pleasures of the flesh. To me and my admirers, a sexual threesome with Aunt Flow can be fun, primal and exciting.

"Much of the conversation surrounding period sex is based on the immature conclusion that it's somehow 'uncomfortable' or 'dirty.' When the focus is how to prep for a mess or which positions hide your body easiest, the result is fear and shame.

"I am no stranger to the slippery sensations and metallic aroma of period sex. Inconceivable as it may seem to some, it's a huge fetish for many. There are common themes: blood play, hematolagnia, or being 'marked' with the intimate fluids of another—something I find very arousing.

"If you want to dabble in period play, ask. Consent-affirming questions—'Would you feel comfortable receiving oral?'—are the easiest way to ensure everyone is enjoying themselves. Likewise, telling a partner 'I'm not bothered by it' when they mention wanting to avoid sex because of their period, and adding, "If you're ever uncomfortable or in pain, we can stop" can go a long way toward making someone feel safe and desirable. When the time is taken to align with what pleasures a lover, you'll notice you have a long line of pleasured lovers."

GRAY? WELL, OKAY!!!

Like the swallows returning to Capistrano, entertainment media is hardwired to recycle the "older men are sexy" trope at least once a year. And you know what? We're not complaining. Bring on the celebrity DILFs!

If there's any room for griping, it's that the names they tend to trot out are a tad…pedestrian. Sure, what's not to like about Paul Rudd or Will Smith? But where's the danger? Where's the originality? Where's the Mads Mikkelsen?!

Of course, sex workers know where it's at. Here are six sexy connoisseurs who serve up their all-time favorite silver foxes.

Lauren Kiley: "Besides his obvious physical beauty, fantasizing about Mads Mikkelsen can be a decadently elaborate experience. I have a mind palace full of his characters, each with their own sexual aesthetic and mood. Whether he is in bondage as Rihanna's bitch or torturing James Bond's dick, Mads has a sensual intensity that I find magnetic. One senses that a night with him wouldn't just be hot; it would be…interesting." Twitter: @xoxoLaurenKiley

Milady de Winter: "While Jon Hamm is undoubtedly a stunner, his pull runs deeper. No, it isn't the gravity well of a certain appendage, and he'd thank us all to stop thinking about it. His versatility and sense of humor make him fascinating. As the infamous Don Draper quipped, 'If you don't like what's being said, change the conversation.' And so, for your consideration, the only man: Jon Hamm." Twitter: @LewdLiterati

Tanya Tate: "I have a thing for tall, strong men, and The Rock ticks all those boxes. I would also love my very own James Bond, aka Daniel Craig. Handsome; shaken, but not stirred; and oh, so sophisticated in a suit. Call me Miss Pussy Galore, because I'm ready to play with all of his gadgets." Twitter: @TanyaTate

Quin: "2021 was the year I went a bit mad for Mads Mikkelsen. The fan fiction and art devoted to his characters are vast and the fruits of a loving community. I think this has a lot to do with the man himself; if you haven't already, go watch an interview or three—he's a beautiful soul whose passion for life and his art is infectious. I owe a lot to this wonderful Danish man for lighting a fire in me that, as an erotic performer, burns brighter than ever." Twitter: @ThatMissQuin

Sinn Sage: "Christopher Meloni. He can pull off super serious and intense roles, but he really shines when he plays goofy and silly characters, like in Wet Hot American Summer and Happy! It's so attractive… and my God, does that man have a sexy ass! And yes, he shows it off!" Twitter: @SinnSage

Lexi Luna: "Joe Tessitore! I will seriously watch games he's calling just for him, not the teams. He wears his suits so well and has that perfectly groomed manly beard. Also, he has an adorable laugh and melts me with his deep, sexy voice. It's his easy confidence that gets me, and that comes with age. Dreamy." Twitter: @LexiLunaXOXO

FLIGHT OF FANCY

Million-dollar-idea alert! For the bargain basement price of a paltry $1,000, you can join the coveted Mile High Club without the foul toilet stench or risk of being put on a no-fly list—or worse.

In a way, we're jealous we didn't think of it first: airplanes for sex. Genius. Christened "The Love Cloud," this aptly named private jet can be chartered by couples who want to take their sex life to the next level: 5,000 feet above Las Vegas. A grand (well, $995) gets you 45 minutes; $1,495 gets you 90.

And if group situations are your thing (bless you), then you're in luck, because there's a bed in the cabin that can accommodate up to six people. It's tight, but you'll make it work. In the words of Jeff Goldblum: "Life finds a way."

The pilot wears noise-canceling headphones for maximum privacy, though we hope there's some sort of fail-safe for communicating urgent information quickly ("We're out of lube!"). We don't know what venture capitalist landed on this high-flying, orgasm-inducing gold mine, but if you're still taking pitches, then feast your eyeballs on these horny investment opportunities…

Pitch No. 1: A party bus, but it's an orgy on wheels. Black light, stripper poles, shag carpet everywhere—this thing sells itself!

Pitch No. 2: The "G" Spot. Simulating zero-G, while not new, is still an untapped market insofar as its potential as a consumer sex-perience. You know the drill: Plane goes up; plane goes down; everyone floats. We know sex in free fall is possible (The Uranus Experiment, Part 2 is the first skin flick to be filmed in zero-G) but maybe not all that pleasant or easy, what with the inherent logistical challenges of inserting rod A into socket B.

Pitch No. 3: Two words: blimp sex. VIP boxes at the Super Bowl are nice, but we'd rather be boinking high above the 50-yard line inside the Goodyear Blimp.

Pitch No. 4: Disney World After Dark. For a media monster hell-bent on profit, Disney is missing out on some big bucks by not catering to adult fans and mature cosplayers who want to fuck inside the Millennium Falcon. And if you don't want to sully your precious park, then what about partitioning Fantasyland into, well, Fantasyland XXX?

I'm sure 'generous, loving, table-dancing karaoke superstar' will be written on my tombstone. I've always been a crazy kid. It's hard to imagine doing another job, and I've had great experiences along the way. Once I was invited to a swingers' resort on Lanzarote, a beautiful little island off the coast of Africa, and I got to ride a camel naked. That's something you just don't forget.

"Having sex during a rainstorm is probably one of my favorite memories. Our tent was leaking, and my lover made me squirt, which doesn't happen often! It was so wet and wild. I do love to fuck outdoors, and a hot air balloon ride is on my bucket list, so I'm thinking I'll have to combine the two. I'm pretty adventurous—I've had sex in a movie theater, and I once made love in a hospital bathroom. We were waiting for my ex-boyfriend to get checked out for his broken arm. THE DEATH OF DEMOCRACY

OP-ED BY LONGTIME ACTIVIST HARVEY WASSERMAN

Our democracy is on the brink of death. Donald Trump and Steve Bannon are kicking down the door to an American dictatorship by 2024.

Bannon has long been Trump's chief strategist. A devout authoritarian, he's repeatedly advertised his desire to dismantle American democracy…and seems to be succeeding. As Rasputin advised the last tsar of Russia, and as Karl Rove informed George W. Bush, Bannon has guided Trump and the extreme right wing of the Republican Party toward one-party rule in America.

Bannon has already moved the country a long way in that direction. His mighty fascist fortress is perched on 14 critical pillars of a power structure that could crush what's left of our democracy. The threat to our freedom, our livelihood and our very survival on this Earth could not be more serious.

Resisting is the great political power struggle of our time. Only a massive grassroots uprising can stop this fascist coup from happening. So if you care about your basic rights, freedoms and a human future on this planet, listen up and join in, because we do have a proven way of winning.

Trump and Bannon want American democracy dead because they know that if there's a fair vote in this country, "no Republican"—in Trump's words—"will ever win another election."

Much is centered on our changing demographic. White Americans will be in the minority by 2050. California, Florida and Texas are already at or over the line. The rising Millennial and Zoomer generations—already roughly half of the country—are the most progressive and least autocratic, misogynist, racist or homophobic in U.S. history. In both 2016 and 2020, voters under 30 strongly supported the Democrats and by most accounts decided the 2020 election in key swing states.

So the GOP wants to inoculate itself from the American public. Nationwide, the Democrats have won the popular vote for the Presidency seven of eight times since 1992. Yet we had eight catastrophic years of Bush 2 and four of Trump, with four more possibly to come with Trump 2, enough to make dictatorship possible.

To win a Republican Congress in 2022 and a GOP Presidency in 2024, the Trump/Bannon GOP has built a lethal antidemocratic fortress. Let us count the ways…

1. THE SUPREME COURT: The U.S. Supreme Court has forever been a bastion of racism and reaction. Its horrific 1857 Dred Scott decision ruled that ex-slaves could not be citizens. Its 1896 Plessy v. Ferguson enshrined racial segregation.

From the late 1930s through the early 1970s, the Court served as a liberal bastion of civil rights and liberties. But Nixon, Reagan and Bush 1 made it reactionary again. Its infamous 2000 Bush v. Gore decision enthroned a President who had lost by a half million popular votes.

In 2010 its Citizen United diktat enshrined the right of big corporations to buy our elections. Its infamous 2013 Shelby gutted voting rights.

Today's Court could overrule any popular electoral result. As a 6-3 GOP appendage, its current Chief Justice, John Roberts—like William Rehnquist before him—has built his career on disenfranchising nonmillionaire citizens of youth and color. Most critical has been the landmark 2013 Shelby decision, gutting the critical protections against racial discrimination that were mandated by the 1965 Voting Rights Act. As a result of that decision (Roberts wrote the majority opinion), GOP-controlled state legislatures across the country are erecting major barriers to the ability of citizens of youth and color to cast their ballots and get them reliably counted. >>

Three current Court members—Roberts, Brett Kavanaugh and Amy Coney Barrett—each played a distinct role on the Bush legal team that emerged victorious from the violent "Brooks Brothers Mob" attack on Florida vote counters that flipped the 2000 election. Bush v. Gore says state legislatures can choose their own Electoral College electors no matter what the public wants, setting the stage for future coups.

In 2020-2021, amidst an outright takeover attempt, Vice President Mike Pence refused to turn the White House over to Trump. Some 60 court decisions against The Donald's "stop the steal" challenges halted his autocratic assault. But by 2024 the Supremes could make Trump a dictator on any number of pretexts, with the public having no recourse whatsoever. Here's how…

2. THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE: This racist stronghold was originally embedded in the Constitution to protect the power of small states and slave owners. Its three-fifths language counted slaves for votes they couldn't cast and gave their "owners" Congressional representation. Every U.S. President from 1800 to 1860 either owned slaves, or their Vice President did. The Congress was dominated by the Southern slaveocracy.

Since 1800 the "College" has anointed five Presidents who lost the public vote count, including Bush 2 and Trump. It could happen again in 2024. The Electoral College skews our elections far to the right. Trump's nearly successful plan on January 6, 2021, aimed to void legitimate state delegations and sub in ones that would vote for him, a strategy affirmed in Bush v. Gore.

That decision was widely attacked in 2000 as a contrived travesty. It was so widely ridiculed in both public and legal circles that the 5-4 majority found it necessary to disavow its use as a future precedent, stating that the decision was "limited to the present circumstances."

But Clarence Thomas and a likely Court majority have cited it in arguing that state legislatures—which are heavily gerrymandered—could appoint whomever they want to be President. In 2024 that could be Donald Trump.

3. GERRYMANDERING: In 1812 Massachusetts Governor Elbridge Gerry turned the state's electoral districts into what critics called a bunch of "salamanders." He did it to eliminate a Federalist majority in favor of his own Jeffersonian Democrat-Republicans. He soon became James Madison's Vice President.

Gerrymandering lets incumbents choose their voters rather than the other way around. It allows state officials to rig the maps that define the Congressional and legislative districts in a state however they want, thus enabling them to manipulate voting populations and all but guarantee victory for their favored candidates.

Thus for two centuries gerrymandering has empowered a state's entrenched party to rig the districting process against the popular majority and stay in power. Today advanced computer technology lets incumbents manipulate their safe districts every ten years with lethal precision.

But in 2008 and 2010, a California grassroots movement won referenda for an independent, transparent, nonpartisan commission to set districts that actually represent the voters. At the time the Democrats controlled the gerrymandering process and rigged the state. Nancy Pelosi was among those who strongly opposed the change. But Arnold Schwarzenegger helped win it with a reported $3 million in campaign contributions.

California's commission works extremely well, resulting in electoral contests that are actually competitive—a rarity in today's America. But parallel commissions in Iowa, Michigan, Ohio and elsewhere are being sabotaged. And most other states still don't have them, meaning gerrymandering rules Congress and the rigged legislatures that could choose their own Presidents no matter what the public wants.

4. THE RED MAP COUP: In 2010 the Democrats slept through a "Red Map Coup" that let GOP lock up legislatures throughout the heartland (Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania) and the 11 states of the Old Confederacy. Former Bush consigliere Karl Rove used cash from the billionaire Koch brothers to buy key legislative seats in swing districts, grabbing state houses and Congress. In response, Obama held a shell-shocked White House press conference to admit to a "shellacking," but did nothing to counteract what had happened.

The GOP then redistricted the Democrats out of the heartland/Confederate legislatures even though the Dems hold significant voting majorities in many of those states. Since Bush v. Gore allows the legislatures to trash the popular Presidential vote for Electoral College delegates, by 2024 the reactionary far-right GOP state assemblies could simply make Trump President—which is what he intended with the barely failed January 6, 2021, attack on Congress.

In the run-up to 2024, Trump/Bannon can call on a battalion of state legislatures so badly gerrymandered and so far to the right of the actual electorate that they are in fact fascist strongholds virtually impervious to public or progressive dissent. From Arizona to Texas to Florida to Pennsylvania, these rigged legislatures are now passing dozens of laws against abortion and civil rights while all but killing any attempts to move the nation toward social justice, human rights or ecological protection.

Whether the U.S. will ever again have fairly drawn legislative and Congressional districts—or whether they'll make Trump President for life—will be definitively decided in 2024.

5. THE SENATE: The 50 Democrats in the U.S. Senate represent nearly 42 million more Americans than the 50 Republicans.

The Constitution rigged the Senate to protect the small states from the big ones. But in 2018 Dianne Feinstein of California got reelected with more than 6 million votes. Kyrsten Sinema won with 1.19 million in Arizona. West Virginia's Joe Manchin came with just 290,000. All have equal weight in the Upper House.

GOP Minority Leader Mitch McConnell has turned his 50 overrepresented Republicans into a brain-dead zombie army aimed—successfully—at crippling Biden and anything resembling a progressive agenda. While the Democrats scream at Sinema and Manchin, the 50 Republicans—with the possible exception of Lisa Murkowski—remain united against serving what the Constitution called our "general welfare."

6. THE FILIBUSTER: The Constitution originally said any bill could come to the House or Senate floor with a simple majority. But today's filibuster—rooted in the Dutch word for "pirate"—demands 60 votes to end a debate, virtually killing any chance for anything resembling democratic or social reform.

White supremacist Southerners have regularly used the filibuster to lynch democracy. But in 1964 Republican Minority Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois wrangled 67 votes to get his friend Lyndon Johnson's landmark Civil Rights Act through Congress.

That could never happen today. Mitch McConnell's GOP holds his Senators in an iron grip. Should the tables be turned, the GOP will instantly kill the filibuster. But for now, unless the Democrats can do an end run, virtually anything Mitch opposes is DOA.

7. SYSTEMATIC DISENFRANCHISEMENT: Above all, today's GOP hates the idea that—as in 2020— a decisive majority of nonmillionaire citizens of youth and color could actually cast ballots and have them reliably counted. To make sure it never happens again, the GOP has rammed dozens of bills through gerrymandered legislatures. These modern Jim Crow scams cover everything from voter ID to restricted precinct locations to outlawing the delivery of food or water for voters stuck in long lines.

Florida's conservative Republicans have threatened nonmillionaires of youth and color with fines and prison terms for trying to vote. Despite a statewide referendum strongly approved by the populace in 2018, Florida's gerrymandered legislature used arbitrary fines to strip more than a million ex-felons of votes.

8. THE ELECTION APPARATUS: To cement the coup, Steve Bannon's fascist operatives are being deployed to seize control of the American election apparatus at the ground level, precinct by precinct. Such a right-wing army could easily muddy the waters where the ballots are mailed out and come back in and are counted. Should that become the case, without effective counterbalancing, we can expect Election Day theft and chaos from start to finish. That comes with the secretaries of state, once-obscure officials who run our elections and can swing any of them.

In Florida 2000, Secretary of State Katherine Harris helped throw the Presidency to George W. Bush, brother of her boss, Governor Jeb Bush. In Ohio 2004, Secretary of State J. Kenneth Blackwell played a hundred dirty tricks while simultaneously running the election and serving as state cochair for the Committee to Reelect Bush-Cheney. Most critical, he gave a no-bid contract to a Bush IT specialist who counted the electronic votes that gave W a second term.

Such conflicts of interest are at the core of the insider takeovers Trump and Bannon have planned for 2022 and 2024.

9. RIGGED AUDITS AND RECOUNTS: In the coming months, and in 2022/2024, we are certain to see more hotly contested recounts and audits. It's essential that all elections be subject to meaningful, professional, nonpartisan recounts and audits. But Arizona's recent corrupt, amateurish fiasco showed how dangerous the exercise can be in the hands of corrupt, incompetent, partisan scam artists. Following in their clownish footsteps, we can expect, in 2022 and 2024, to see a flood of bogus election/audit demands from GOP operatives demanding reversals and victories in vote counts they refuse to admit they lost.

Thus the nation needs a uniform set of regulations and procedures to guarantee that all of our elections can be examined and reexamined accurately and reliably. The Trump/Bannon juggernaut will demand victories in every election they actually lose, no matter what an accurate and reliable recount/audit might say. With well-documented procedures and safeguards, the forces of democracy must be prepared to count and recount all upcoming elections with organized and informed integrity and accuracy.

10. THE DRUG WAR: Since the early 1970s, when Nixon launched his infamous war on drugs, the U.S. prison population has exploded over 500%, with many minorities ensnared disproportionately for marijuana offenses. Its horrendous impacts on communities of youth and color must be completely ended.

The drug war has had nothing to do with protecting public health. An early 1970s federal blue-ribbon commission chaired by Pennsylvania's Republican Governor Raymond P. Shafer confirmed that marijuana was not a human hazard and should not be made illegal. But the Nixon Administration ignored all that and used the drug war to disenfranchise millions of young and Black citizens while disrupting their communities. As White House advisor John Ehrlichman infamously explained, “The Nixon campaign in 1968, and the Nixon White House after that, had two enemies: the antiwar left and Black people.… We knew we couldn't make it illegal to be either against the war or Black, but by getting the public to associate the hippies with marijuana and Blacks with heroin, and then criminalizing both heavily, we could disrupt those communities. We could arrest their leaders, raid their homes, break up their meetings and vilify them night after night on the evening news. Did we know we were lying about the drugs? Of course we did.”

AT THE HEART OF TODAY'S U.S. IS A MASSIVE MOVEMENT TO MAKE THIS COUNTRY SANE AGAIN, ESPECIALLY FOR THE YOUNG WHO WANT TO LIVE HERE FOR DECADES TO COME.

Thus the GOP stopped young, Black and poor people from organizing and voting, shifting the balance of power in key states, especially in the heartland and South. Since 1999 nearly a million Americans have died from opioids. Not a single citizen has died from an OD on pot.

11. MONEY: Back in 1907 Theodore Roosevelt helped ban corporate campaigning with the Tillman Act. But since then the ceaseless ka-ching of corporate cash has bought the bulk of our elections.

Cyclical waves of grassroots outrage have fought back. Public anger peaked after Nixon's 1972 landslide was soaked in a tsunami of dirty cash. At least one corporate executive personally gave Dick—in the Oval Office—a paper bag stuffed with $100,000 in greenbacks.

The Supremes have since even further greased the skids with Buckley (1976) and Bellotti (1978), followed by Citizens United (2010) and McCutcheon (2014)—all of them allowing rich individuals and corporations to buy our elections outright.

Today's bribery is bipartisan, as Kyrsten Sinema grovels before Big Pharma and Joe Manchin delivers for Big Coal. But Howard Dean and then Barack Obama have dented the corporations' big donor domination with millions of small donations pouring through the internet. In 2016 Vermont Senator Bernie Sanders raised millions on donations that averaged $27. Should grassroots internet-based donations escalate, corporate rule could be slashed and the nation transformed. But you can count on Trump, Bannon and McConnell doing all they can to prevent that from happening.

12. FASCIST VIOLENCE: Armed attacks have always been part of the American electoral process. According to a report from the Equal Justice Initiative, between 1865 and 1950, white supremacists lynched at least 6,500 Blacks who dared to speak out in their communities or actually tried to vote.

In 2000 the upscale “Brooks Brothers Mob” assaulted vote counters in south Florida and swung the Presidency from Al Gore to George W. Bush. Their violence was certified by the Supremes' 5-4 decision, handing Bush the Presidency.

Violent mobs have since threatened to kidnap the governor of Michigan and brought automatic weapons to rallies in Texas and Arizona. Trump Nazis now regularly make death threats against the families of anyone—even Republicans—who might doubt a Trump dictatorship.

Realistically, fascist Trump/Bannon militias with military-grade weapons may now pose the prime threat to American democracy.

13. THE MEDIA: With the 1920s dawn of radio, Congress insisted that the airwaves provide balanced points of view on the issues of the day. It later strictly limited ownership of major media outlets to guarantee fair and balanced reporting.

But in the Reagan-Clinton 1980s and '90s, extreme rightist corporations and fascist commentators came to dominate the broadcast media. The rise of Fox and gestapo-minded bloviators like Rush Limbaugh made American politics a fact-free, celebrity-obsessed sinkhole of bigotry and hate. Meanwhile, even the “liberal” networks obsess over issue-free celebrity and race horse idiocy that has nothing to do with our political and ecological crises.

Today's major media depends on hugely profitable campaign advertising that denies the country's desperate need for structural change. Social media networks like Facebook tilt the flow to the authoritarian right. Recent exposés of the politicized use of sophisticated algorithms to manipulate millions of voters (as well as our buying habits) by Steve Bannon-inspired Cambridge Analytica and others have recently been documented in devastating films such as The Great Hack and The Social Dilemma.

Until grassroots activism can break through the cynical monopolization of our sources of information, defending our democracy will be virtually impossible.

14. THE DEMOCRATS: The Democratic Party has been forever lame in resisting the Republican attack on our electoral process. In 2000, 2004, 2010 and 2016 it slept while massive irregularities defined elections Democrats would otherwise have won. The Dems' smug, endless fundraising is annoying and futile. The money they raise goes to ineffectual electronic advertising rather than the hard-core grassroots organizing Bannon and the far-right GOP now use to win.

As we have seen in Virginia and throughout the U.S., today's Democratic Party is an obsolete gerontocracy seriously out of touch with the rising Millennial and Zoomer generations redefining America. Those who advocate democracy are being sold short by an ineffectual relic that needs to totally remake itself if we are to survive.

THE PEOPLE STRIKE BACK

The Trump/Bannon juggernaut has one definitive problem: We the People are not with them. The champions of democracy have one overwhelming advantage over this fascist onslaught—we outnumber the hell out of them. Trump and Bannon must destroy democracy because a big and growing majority of the American public hates what they stand for.

The rising Millennial/Zoomer generations—now roughly half of the nation—have shifted massively to the left. Had just they voted in 2016 and 2020, Trump would have lost both times by more than 60% of the popular vote and more than 400 in the Electoral College.

On the issues that matter, a clear majority of young Americans support the progressive agenda. The “Bernie Mystique” has become mainstream. Expanded social security; Medicare for all; ending racism, homophobia, misogyny, poverty, hunger and homelessness; closing the abyss between rich and poor; protecting the Earth—all are core American values. At the heart of today's U.S. is a massive movement to make this country sane again, especially for the young who want to live here for decades to come.

But with the money power stacked up against us, can that movement beat back the assault on our democracy? The proven answer is YES! Escalating the small-donation millions pouring in through the web could soon overtake the weight of corporate money.

The mainstream media is still addicted to the billions spent every election cycle on campaign advertising. But the balance of power is shifting to social media, heavily influenced by the popular hatred and fear of Donald Trump and the specter of Bannon-style fascism. Likewise the nature of grassroots organizing. Dean, Barack and Bernie have all emphasized the “retail” politics of door-to-door campaigning and face-to-face recruitment to spread their message and build their electoral “Big Mo.”

Corporate Democrats love to pour donor millions into worthless TV advertising. High-roller “helicopter” strategists hate on-the-ground organizing, squander millions on electronic oblivion, then blame the grassroots left when they lose, as they did in Virginia in November 2021, when they blew an obviously winnable governor's race.

But in Georgia 2020-2021, a tech-savvy grassroots organizer named Andrea Miller teamed with Ray McClendon, the seasoned political director of the Atlanta NAACP, to launch a breakthrough ground-level campaign. They coordinated with deep-rooted Black organizations like the Prince Hall Masons, the NAACP and the “Divine Nine” fraternities and sororities now at the core of African-American power. Combining thousands of postcards with hundreds of on-the-ground volunteers, the uniquely well-coordinated effort may well have turned the tide in Georgia, giving the state's electoral votes to Joe Biden in one of the great upsets in modern U.S. politics.

Then came the even more impossible: Georgia's long history of Ku Klux Klan bigotry has forever focused on Blacks and Jews. But in a special January 5, 2021, election, moving the U.S. Senate to a 50-50 tie demanded “impossible” victories by the Black preacher Raphael Warnock and Jon Ossoff, a Jewish filmmaker. The odds were heavily stacked against them.

To beat those odds, Miller, McClendon and a brilliantly coordinated grassroots phalanx put thousands of organizers into the streets, the back roads, the telephones and the post office. With a sophisticated computerized tracking system, a massive mailing list and the deep-rooted credibility of the NAACP and other long-standing community networks, Warnock and Ossoff both won. In what some called “the Georgia Miracle,” Kamala Harris received the deciding vote in the U.S. Senate.

The Zoom-based Grassroots Emergency Election Protection Coalition along with the national Progressive Democrats of America have helped document first-person interviews with dozens of the key organizers of this astonishing victory. The book and documentary film they're producing can be used to help replicate similar triumphs for years to come.

For those who despair in the face of the fearsome Trump-Bannon fascist front, the “Georgia Way” offers more than just hope. The key to our future lies with the proven model of millions of small web-based donations powering a sophisticated on-the-ground army of dedicated volunteers and paid organizers willing to knock on doors, organize public events, write postcards, make phone calls, protect the vote count and do the nitty-gritty work of rousing an angry, motivated majority.

Clearly, this computerized grassroots model has blown away the tired old-line Democrats who forever grovel for corporate cash to blow on boring media buys. In the decades to come, the hard-core grassroots path to power energizes hope and ignites tangible victories in the life-death struggle against Trump and Bannon's fascist hordes.

The rising young Millennial/Zoomer cohorts are about to become a majority of American voters. The white faux-Christian, hate-based homophobic, anti-feminist, fossil-nuke evangelical geezers are headed toward the ash heap of history. The “Georgia Way” has shown how we can push them there. It is known, it works, it's not rocket science, and it is the key to saving American democracy.

Two sexual experiences really stick in my mind: fucking on a beach in 30-degree weather and sucking my boyfriend's dick after not seeing him for weeks. He had a fuck ton of cum stored up, and it all but drowned me. So awesome.

"Friday nights you'll find me rock climbing or getting fucked. I would rather get lost in the woods than in a bar any day. Free Solo is my favorite movie, because watching someone scale a 3,000-foot granite wall completely by himself, without any gear, is one of the most incredible things I've ever seen.

"I am really into BDSM. I used to be a hardcore sub, but lately I've been getting in touch with my more dominant side. I love the whole power exchange dynamic between two people and creating something truly perverted and lovely together. My favorite foreplay is being fingered—looking into someone's eyes as they rub my pussy until I'm whimpering. Then they slide their fingers in and slowly drive me crazy.

"Visually, I'm into butts and legs. I love watching a nice ass doing just about anything; same with a nice pair of legs. My favorite position to suck dick is kneeling between a man's legs, because not only do I get a cock down my throat, but I get beefy thighs pressing into me on either side."

Growing up, I was a weird kid. I had a big imagination, and I liked to play 'dirty' games. I still love to be called slut, whore, baby girl, good girl and dirty—hehe.

"My friends would describe me as outgoing, confident and a hippie. I describe myself as very fluid in my hobbies and interests and very, very horny. I want the world to know it's okay to be horny. Sexting is my main hobby. I do it all the time—audio messages make it all the better. And I do love dick pics when they're asked for.

A man was in the delivery room with his wife, who was about to give birth. "Get this baby out of me!" she shrieked. "Give me the drugs! You did this to me, you fucker!"

Her husband responded, "If you recall, I wanted to stick my dick up your ass, but you said, 'Fuck off. It'll be too painful.'"

Mike asked his buddy Don, "Hey, what's bugging you?"

"I just had another fight with my wife," Don replied. "That woman gives me shit for no reason at all."

"So what set her off this time?" Mike prodded.

"We were both horny and just about to start having sex," Don explained. "She had already taken off her blouse and jeans when I asked, 'Why are you wearing your sister's bra?'"

Question: Why did God create Eve after Adam?

Answer: She thought she could do much better.

A female assistant was giving her boss a blowjob when the executive's cell phone rang. He picked it up and heard his wife scream, "Where the hell are you?! You were supposed to be home an hour ago!"

Putting a hand on the back of his assistant's head, the executive replied, "Don't worry, dear. I'm coming right now."

Boris got fired from his job because he kept asking customers whether they preferred smoking or nonsmoking. Apparently the correct terms are cremation and burial.

Here's an odorous recollection from a gal named Alice: "During lunch today I ate three servings of baked beans, which I knew was a bad idea. When I got home from work, my husband Kevin exclaimed, 'Darling, I have a surprise for dinner!'

"He then blindfolded me and led me to my seat at the dining room table. Just as Kevin was about to remove the blindfold, the telephone rang. He made me promise not to remove the blindfold until he returned.

"The beans were making my insides rumble, and I desperately had to fart. I cut one, and it was loud and smelled worse than cooked cabbage. I took a napkin and vigorously fanned the air around me. Then I ripped off three more. The stink was worse than a truck hauling fertilizer running over a skunk in front of a garbage dump. While keeping my ears tuned to the conversation in the other room, I released a few more farts. The pleasure was fantastic!

"Eventually Kevin's telephone farewell signaled the end of my freedom. I quickly fanned the air again, pleased with myself. My face must have been the picture of innocence when my husband apologized for taking so long.

"Kevin asked if I'd peeked through the blindfold, and I assured him I hadn't. When he finally removed it, I saw dinner guests seated around the table, all pinching their noses. Then they began to sing 'Happy birthday to you....'"

A couple lived together for 20 years without tying the knot of matrimony. After they wed, the bride's best friend asked her, "What made you finally decide to get married?"

The bride replied, "I got tired of giving him blowjobs."

Skylar acquired her love of sports cars as a child, and it has never waned. She has a passion for BMWs and has even parlayed that passion into cash by smoking others on the track!

HUSTLER: Can you describe the allure of fast cars for you?
SKYLAR VOX: It's kind of hard to explain, but I feel like a badass chick when it comes to my cars. I think somebody who enjoys the adrenaline rush racing gives you is sexy as fuck!

How did your first car shape your obsession with rides?
Owning a BMW was the start of a love affair—although anybody who owns a BMW knows they require a lot of maintenance. I can't stop putting money into my baby!

Have you ever taken your ride to the track?
I've raced—it has been on dark, lonely roads, so you really have to pay attention. I've seen a couple of fights break out over it, and I've had to do "the dash" when cops were called one time! As I said, I've only participated in a few races, but sometimes I still like to go just to be involved and watch. Two of the races I've been in were before I was in porn, and the other one I did was after getting into it. I was fairly new, so not a lot of people knew who I was. They definitely were butt-hurt though, getting smoked by a girl!

What modifications have you put into your baby?
I've upgraded my turbos, booster and have a performance tuner and a Lager compressor.

Those are some heavy-duty upgrades. Do you have others planned?
Besides getting new coil-overs, I haven't thought about more engine mods. She's pretty golden right now, but possibly in the future I'll do a turbo swap.

Speaking of swap, what would your dream car be on your fast and furious journey?
My dream car is a GT-R R34 [Nissan Skyline]. Absolutely in love!

What about it makes it your dream car?
It's rare as hell, imported, right-hand drive; it's sexy and can be modded easily as well. It's a beauty. Rare JDMs [vehicles designed for the Japanese domestic market] are popular in the car community.

Are people surprised to see you behind the wheel of your machine when you're racing down the freeway?
People are surprised when I get out of the car, but not when I'm in it. Since I pretty much have limousine tints all around the car, they can't see in. Haha!

Does having the tinted windows make you feel safer? I can imagine your car makes you stand out.
I live in Florida, and it's hot. I don't feel safer per se, because I'm not really scared of anything, you know?

Speaking of hot, I feel like I'd be missing out if I didn't ask if you've ever had car sex.
I have had car sex, and I'm not gonna lie—unless you have a large backseat, you end up pulling over on the side of the road and leaning yourself into the car from the outside rather than actually trying to have sex with the doors shut.

Car sex is difficult in small spaces for sure. Is there a certain position you've found that works in the front or back seat?
Pretty much nothing works except riding.

Would you like to shoot a porn featuring cars?
I would be down to shoot a porn featuring exotic cars. It would be so hot! I feel a little opinionated [about] if a porn star who actually isn't into cars does a scene like that versus a porn girl who actually knows about cars. I think my dream scene would involve me behind the wheel!

Lastly, describe your driving style to the readers using three words.
Full sends only. I also have this on my license plate. LOL!

Full sends only? Explain what that means to our readers.
I guess it's kind of literal. "Full sends only"—I only send the car fully, meaning I'm always driving with skill, speed and precision.

KAITLYN KATSAROS

Twitter: @GrandCherokkee

Kaitlyn was introduced to the automotive world at a car show. That was all it took to get her sprung on all things fast and powerful! When she's not on set, you can catch her working on her muscle cars and hear her roar down the street.

HUSTLER: What was your experience like when you were finally old enough to drive?
KAITLYN KATSAROS: It felt like a whole new door of opportunities and interests in the car world were about to come my way, and that's exactly what happened! It was a huge adrenaline rush when I got into my own car's driver's seat. I was so excited to start my journey—finally—creating my own unique build!

Were you nervous or hesitant when you first got behind the wheel?
Honestly, no. It didn't scare me. I was excited and wanted to push it more—haha!

Speaking of firsts, what was your first car, and did you push it to its limits?
I knew, going into getting the Camaro, that is was just a 3.6L V6, because my parents thought I was too young to handle all the power of a 6.2L V8, but yes, definitely! Having some knowledge of cars prior to getting it, I knew it wasn't going to be the fastest, but I for sure got multiple speeding tickets while having that thing.

Multiple speeding tickets?
Yes, I've gotten quite a few, unfortunately.

Have you ever tried using your feminine wiles to get off with just a warning?
I haven't had much luck getting out of tickets, and I genuinely think it's because the cop pulling me over probably thinks I already get out of so many tickets, so they just go ahead and give it to me. Jerks!

Have you made any enhancements to your cars to improve performance?
Some of the very first things I did to my Camaro was put an exhaust on it and slam it to the floor on air bag suspension so I got it at least sounding pretty nice. And with being so low on the floor and it being my only car, I was able to control when I needed to raise or lower the vehicle to get to where I needed to go without any issues. Soon I was able to save up a good amount of money to get some nice Ferrada wheels; blacked-out tint; new taillights; a full aerodynamic kit for the front, sides and rear of my car; and a few different wraps—one was mini red camouflage, and another was half matte black and half white marble. I didn't do any performance modifications on the Camaro due to it being a V6. I started installing engine mods once I got myself into my WRX STI [Subaru] and my Trackhawk.

What do you think is behind your passion for cars?
Throughout my entire life, I've kind of been on my own. I dealt with a lot of bullying constantly, as well as having no friends, so things were tough. After school or work, me going straight to work on my car would just immediately clear my head of all my problems and leave me to focus on what I wanted to achieve with my build and my goals.

I think that finding an outlet to relieve stress and center yourself is a wonderful way to protect mental health. Do you recall the first time you used your car as a form of therapy?
I do! The day I got the first mod for my Camaro, which was an air lift suspension kit. It was the first time I was able to take apart and get up close and personal with my car. It was super stress-relieving. Even just getting behind the wheel and going on drives or racing people soothes my mind away from all my problems.

So what was your next vehicle?
After my Camaro, I purchased a WRX STI, and soon after that I purchased my dream car, which is the Jeep Trackhawk!

That's a wide range of vehicles. Since you're petite and those are some big cars, are people surprised when they see you in them?
People always ask, "Is that your boyfriend's car?" and I'm like "No!" Haha! It happens all the time. People can't believe the cars I get out of once I pull up. I have all my windows including my windshield tinted, so you really can't see who is driving at all, and when I stop at gas stations or meets, people are so shocked at who steps out. Gets me every time, honestly!

When you started doing porn in 2020, did you use your paychecks to fuel your hot rod hobby?
Yes! Porn has helped me so much with getting nicer and more quality modifications done to my cars. It genuinely makes my soul happy! I would estimate that I've spent about $150,000 in modifications with the three vehicles I've owned.

> "GETTING BEHIND THE WHEEL AND GOING ON DRIVES OR RACING PEOPLE SOOTHES MY MIND AWAY FROM ALL MY PROBLEMS."

Damn, that's one hell of an investment!
Hell, yeah, it is! It shocked me when I was adding it all up for this article. I like to keep a busy schedule, and I can comfortably mod my cars however I'd like now, which is really nice.

Speaking of cars and work, have you ever combined the two?
Yes, I have! I have a few scenes released already in my STI and in my Trackhawk. Planning on filming more in my cars. It's so fun!

You're very active on social media and regularly share your automotive progress. What types of comments have you received?
I do post my car a lot, and I notice my fans aren't as interested in it as they are in my porn. But the fans who do comment have nothing but amazing things to say about my cars and say that my build is turning out sick so far.

Has driving helped your porn career in any way?
Well, since I learned stick, I always try to incorporate my hands more in my blowjobs. I got some good hand work! It also helps motivate me to perform the best I can, honestly. I love being that "cute little porn girl" coming out of her race car. Time to drop a gear and disappear!

Before I go, describe your driving style in three words.
Scary, speedy, but also careful.

CHANTEL ETOILE

Twitter: @Chantel_Etoile

Chantel is a luxury car aficionado. She has goals as far and wide as the open road and is keeping her eye on investing in rare and elusive rides.

HUSTLER: When were you introduced to the wide world of automotive?
CHANTEL ETOILE: As a young child, every time I'd pass by a sports car, I'd imagine myself as a teenager driving to school with the top down. I'd look at the car magazines at the grocery store waiting for my mom to check out. If someone with a cool car was parked near us, I'd ask them the kind of car and how fast it went. I'm sure my mom got annoyed with me.

I know you have specific requirements for vehicles you want the keys to. What are your prerequisites?
Simply put, horsepower! My list of dream cars satisfies my need for speed. Sleek, torque and horsepower. You can't go wrong. All the cars on my future list have at least 500+ horsepower. It makes the car go faster in less time, so of course it fuels my adrenaline addiction. The rumbling when the car starts is a sure "panty wetter" for me. The McLaren 720S produces 710 horsepower, and I can't wait to get behind the wheel of that one. I could go on and on!

What are you currently speeding down the road in?
Mercedes sports cars have always been on the top of my list for my first luxury sports car. I was very lucky to have this one gifted to me for my birthday last summer. I had the option between the SLC 300 and the SL 550. Since I was upgrading from a Pontiac Solstice, I felt more comfortable being able to handle the performance of the SLC. The SL has a V8 engine with 0-to-60-mph acceleration in 4.3 secs, and I just knew I'd get speeding tickets if I went for that model. I will for sure get the SL when I upgrade in the next year or so.

Now, you don't participate in street racing, but I understand you recently had the opportunity to ride along with a friend who does.
I'm an adrenaline junkie, so I did not hesitate jumping in the passenger >> seat of his enhanced Dodge Viper when offered. It was exhilarating and such a turn-on as we topped out around 210 mph before the power steering line fried. I do not recommend that happening. Fortunately, he was very experienced, so I felt safe and didn't even know anything happened until he told me why we had to stop.

Are you open to taking guests on a speed-fueled ride in your own vehicle?
Absolutely! As long as I can find a safe way of doing it. I do love any reason to put my car in sports+ mode. It actually sounds like a great date idea.

Would you ever buy a car without driving it first?
One hundred percent! I never drove my current car before receiving her. I just knew it was what I wanted, and I was determined to have it. Now that I think about it, I've never test-driven any of the cars that I've owned, and it's worked out pretty well for me…so far.

I'm told there's big money in sports car collecting. Have you ever considered investing in rare rides?
I really would love to pursue that down the road. I haven't decided which car yet, as the prices are such a wide range. For instance, I was watching Monterey Car Week while on a date, and a 2014 Ferrari LaFerrari sold for $3.1M. Its original release price was somewhere around $1.4M. Excellent return on investment, but you still need a lot of capital. Maybe I'll start with a limited-edition Corvette and try to not fall in love with it so I'd actually want to sell it.

Your rides look so good! What aesthetics draw you to specific cars?
I'm vain, so I actually choose cars based on how I would look driving them. I'm attracted to sleek designs with curves, as those are feminine to me. For example, the Aston Martin Vantage is curvy. I know it would compliment all of my natural curves. I don't think I'd look good driving muscle cars, so I wouldn't own one; however, I do look great as a passenger in those cars—wink.

What car do you feel best embodies your look and aesthetics?
Hands down the McLaren. It is sleek, curvy, edgy, sophisticated and a showstopper—all things that would describe me.

Would you ever have sex in it, or is that strictly off limits?
I've actually never considered it. It seems like it would be very uncomfortable to attempt in a two-seater. Possibly with the top down, I could make it work…hmm. I think that would be more for a story to tell than enjoyment though. I think sex would be much better in my van when I'm done building that out.

Describe your driving style in three words.
Carefully fast karaoke.

KAILANI KAI

Twitter: @KailaniKaiXXX

Kailani likes fast muscle cars. As a kid, she watched her dad restore and collect them. As an adult, she screeches down the road in her Dodge Challenger.

HUSTLER: What drew you to your love of all things fast and powerful?
KAILANI KAI: Honestly, I have always loved the look of the beefy muscle cars and the loud noises that come from fast cars. Then, when Fast and the Furious first came out, the fast cars and hot girls just made me fall in love with all of it even more.

Fast and the Furious* introduced a lot of people to the world of speed and performance. Anything you would change about those movies to show how it truly is?
I would put more women throughout the movie actually driving the cars and not just as show girls.

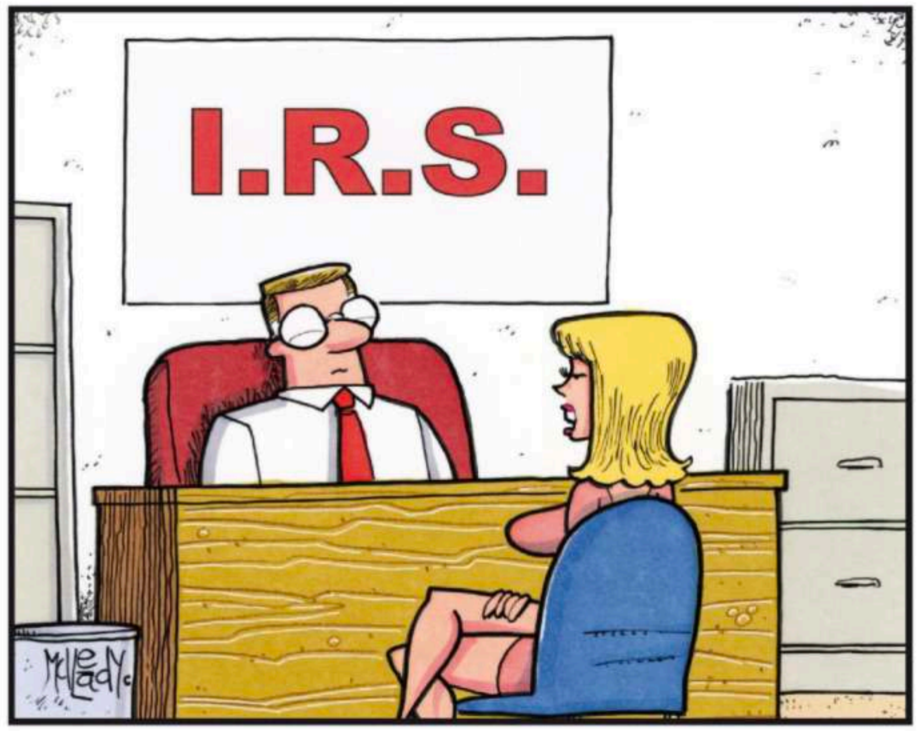
What rides do you fantasize about having in your garage?
I would love the 1968 classic Corvette, candy apple red; a 2021 Dodge Challenger Demon, jet black; and a Dodge Charger SRT Hellcat Redeye Widebody.

What about those cars draws you to them?
I am fascinated with the muscly, beefy look to them and their speed performance. So powerful!

Since you're a porn star and an auto enthusiast, do you have any sexy stories about getting freaky in cars?
Well, yes, I have enjoyed lots of sex and blowjobs in cars!

Blowjobs in cars? That's hot! Tell the readers about one of those experiences.
I got a little tipsy one night and had a friend drive me home. One thing led to another, and I gave him a blowjob as a thank-you present. A BJ in the car—it was hot!

Last question for you: How would you describe your driving style in three words?
Sexy as hell!



"How about a blowjob?

DADDY DAUGHTER SWAP #2

HUSTLER VIDEO. DIRECTOR: STUART CANTERBURY. STARRING: KIMBER WOODS, ASHLEY ADAMS, BROOKE HAZE, LILY JORDAN, ERIC MASTERSON, TOMMY GUNN, AARON WILCOXXX & EVAN STONE.

Ever since the iconic 1999 comedy American Pie, the term MILF has been firmly ensconced in the erotic lexicon. But what of the DILFs out there? When do they get their due? Should we not acknowledge fathers who have somehow maintained their sexual desirability through decades of soul-sucking work day in and day out, just trying to make a living in this rat race? It's high time that the doughy-but-still-sexually viable patresfamilias of the world be given their moment in the sun. Daddy Daughter Swap #2 works hard to balance the scales of intergenerational screwing, thrust by fervent thrust. Pint-size sexpot Kimber Woods and big-titted brunette Ashley Adams discuss the sad plight of Kimber's dad—recently divorced, he's living a semi-impoverished and totally sexless existence. Adams confesses to having the hots for the unfortunate Mr. Woods, and before long Kimber and Ashley hatch a plan to screw each other's fathers. (Who says that today's youth lacks ambition?) Pop Adams arrives to pick up his daughter and instead finds himself lifting Kimber onto the kitchen counter and devouring her conch like it's the first meal he's had in months that didn't come from the freezer. Daddy Woods, meanwhile, is lured into Ashley's erotic orbit by her jaw-dropping tatas, and in short order he's humping away at her tight, young snatch and lush cleavage. For a glorious moment he can forget about wallet-draining alimony checks. Daddy Daughter Swap #2 finds horny fathers driving a hard bargain, with a solid payoff for the viewer. JULES JORDAN VIDEO. DIRECTOR: JULES JORDAN. STARRING: ANGELA WHITE, KATALINA KYLE, JADA STEVENS, ADRIANA CHECHIK, CHRIS DIAMOND, JULES JORDAN, ZAC WILD & MICK BLUE.

As a wise man once noted, "He who makes a beast of himself gets rid of the pain of being a man." And what better incentive is there to shed the cloak of civility in favor of rampant barbarism than the prospect of plowing prick-first into the tempting turd-cutter of a hot chick? Anal Savages 7 brings out the brute in viewers, luring them into the carnal wild with a collection of cornholes just waiting to be conquered. Mega-stacked Aussie sexpot Angela White launches the proceedings, decked out in a fetish-friendly outfit. A trio of stiff-dicked dudes descend upon her with the feral intensity of a pride of lions. In short order White is transformed into a spittle-slathered fuck-beast as she's filled yapper-to-crapper with her predators' meat. Her mammoth tits bounce with a force so violent, it would no doubt register on the Richter scale. By scene's end, White's face looks like she's accidentally wandered into an explosion at a glue factory. Leggy, toned and fine-featured, it seems like Adriana Chechik should be modeling fashion instead of being treated like a human pincushion in a stroke flick, but here she is, nearly getting her colon pulled inside out by a guy with a tree branch for a cock. Hyper-buxom blonde Katalina Kyle rounds things out with her cartoonish curves and a gleeful passion for bouncing on Jules Jordan's lap lance. Anal Savages 7 will have viewers gripping their spears tight. —P.D.R.

GUSHING LESBIANS

Hurting for a squirting? Praying for a spraying? Gushing Lesbians will quench that desire, bathing you in the wet warmth of exploding girl geysers. But there are some troubled waters to wade through first. Giselle Palmer and Ivy Lebelle kick things off with a round of inane chitchat that makes SNL's "The Californians" skits sound like a gathering of the Algonquin Round Table. Thankfully, before too long Palmer and Lebelle are putting their mouths to much better use. A fervent make-out session ensues, with Lebelle devouring Palmer's full, ripe tits and pouncing on her pussy. Fierce scissoring and breathy moans punctuate a scene that, with the help of frenetic fingering and sex toys, sets off enough waterworks to end Southern California's drought. Sex dynamos AJ Applegate and Luna Star pair up for a soggy scene, with Applegate's cunt doing a decent impression of Old Faithful as Star pummels it with a dildo. Star, meanwhile, sprays all over Applegate's ample ass. Their scene eventually reaches over-the-top, freak show proportions—it's intriguing to view in the same way that watching a guy hammer a railroad spike into his nostril will grab your attention. Tight-bodied brunettes Adriana Chechik and Megan Rain make for a pleasant coupling, turning in a crotch-swelling performance as they hose each other down. Gushing Lesbians might be a little too messy for some viewers, but it will leave no one high and dry. —P.D.R.

Ever since I was a kid, I have loved to bake. I like how baking brings people joy. I mean, who doesn't like chocolate chip cookies or a nice cake? In the wintertime, it's fun to stay inside a warm kitchen and make treats, especially Russian tea cakes.

"I grew up in a strict household, so when I was finally able to, I rebelled—which led me to the adult industry. I have a bit of a wild child in me, but I don't like to upset people. I prefer to make them smile. Sometimes I'll just dance in public to make people laugh. I'm thrilled to be on camera. There's a different feeling knowing that people are watching you, and I enjoy expressing myself and my sexuality that way. When I shoot, I get so wet, and I can go all day."

SHARON WHITE

"I love posing nude and making men want to fuck me," avows Sharon White, 30, a XXX model from Budapest, Hungary. "I'm excited about appearing in HUSTLER. I hope I'll excite your readers too." Several of the 5-foot-10 Eurobabe's pastimes have an American footprint. "I can't wait for the pandemic to end," Sharon says, "so I can vacation again at Tortuga Beach [Florida]. It's my idea of paradise. I like traveling to other countries. I also read a lot, especially horror stories and mysteries. Stephen King is one of my favorite authors, and I just finished Minél Véresebb [If It Bleeds]." Sharon, whose other chill-time pursuits include wandering around her hometown and eating at cafés in the Kopaszi-gát recreational zone, is fascinated by wildlife. "I can spend an entire day at a zoo," the dog and cat owner coos. "There's a zoo in Budapest, but my favorite is Szigethalmi Családi Vadaspark." Sharon White may have G-rated interests, but she's no Snow White. "I love big, thick dicks in my pussy and ass," she finally professes, "and I watch big-dick porn when I masturbate." —Photos by Omnia Productions

MEGG KELLY

"I once thought that modeling for HUSTLER was a stretch," admits Megg Kelly, a "passionately ambitious camming diva," weight-training enthusiast and fiction writer from Olympia, Washington. "I thought that my body wasn't right or good enough. I'm a 31-year-old tattooed female with two kids and the stomach to prove it." Megg, a college grad and ardent Lady Gaga fan, goes on to tell us, "During the pandemic lockdown I found myself unabashedly sexual and developed a simmering interest in becoming a cam model. I found the self-confidence I wasn't able to harness previously. Being naked online was liberating, invigorating even. I was fully in control of my sexuality for the first time in my life." The 5-foot-2 newbie elaborates, "I'm straight, although I do enjoy making out with women, and I have a covert sexual personality. In public I don't come off as someone who's into being handcuffed to a bench or DP'd, but I am. As Megg the Vamp, I love dominating men with my pussy, squirting in their mouths—squirting is my sexual superpower—and anal creampies. Off camera I need sex to be slightly aggressive and animalistic, but with passion. If it isn't somewhat rough, then I'm bored!" —Photos by Seattleman43

Twenty-eight-year-old Aspen Cavalli from Towson, Maryland, is a phone-sex operator, “bratty, dominant princess” and HUSTLER fan. “Before I jumped into the adult industry,” the 5-foot-2 skin-mag rookie recalls, “I used to sneak peeks at HUSTLER because the women were gorgeous and unapologetic. I thought to myself, I could do that.” And here she is! Aspen does all sorts of things in her spare time. “My hobbies,” she rattles off, “are writing, painting, cooking, baking, working out, tennis and yoga.” When working, Aspen gives her “loyal clients” the dirty talk they want to hear, and she’s equally obliging with us. “I’ve been told I ooze sexuality,” Aspen notes. “I’m straight, seductive, sensual and playful. I love giving blowjobs just to see the look on the guy’s face and know that I’m in control. I prefer dating older, powerful men who crave to unleash their submissive side. I also love receiving oral, and my favorite position is riding.” Even though Aspen digs Nine Inch Nails, Korn, Poison and Bon Jovi—as well as Aaliyah and Janet Jackson—her dream paramour isn’t a rock or pop star: “I want to have sex with a U.S. President. I lust for Bill Clinton. He’s charming and seems genuine, and his accent is hot too.” —Photos by Aspen Cavalli

“Do what makes you feel good. Life is too short to have bad food or bad sex. Whether it’s phone sex or physical sex, make every orgasm count!”

HUSTLER VIDEO

ASIA RIVERA

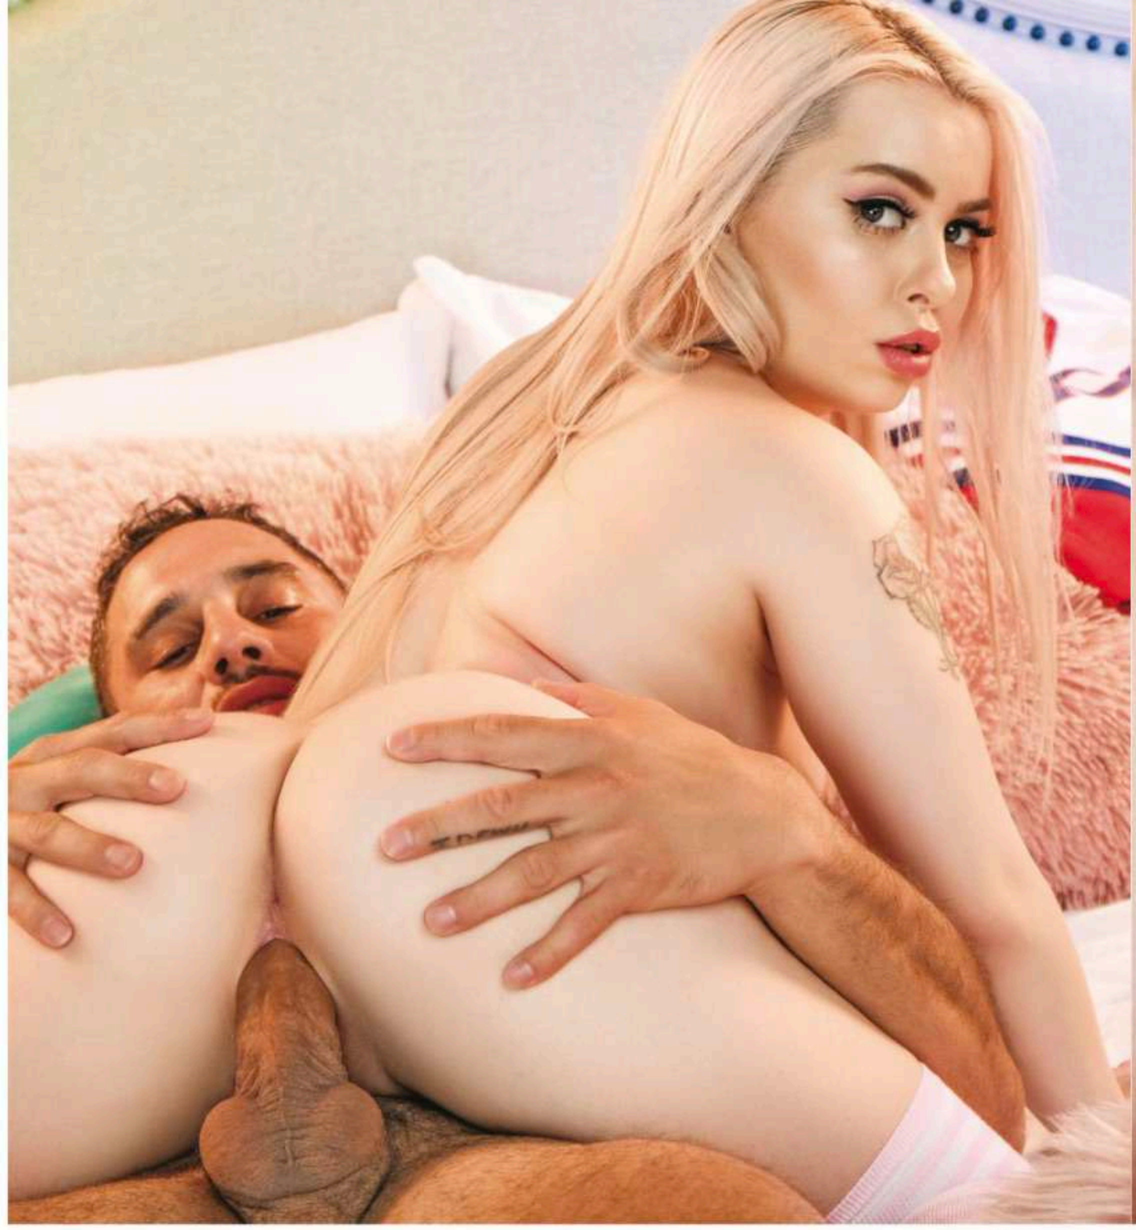
HALEY SPADES



It's hard being the youngest in the family. Big sister gets everything: the huge bedroom, first car, new clothes… By the time anything comes baby sister's way, it's old and worn. But finally these barely legal beauties get some hand-me-downs they don't mind! Jane Rogers, Asia Rivera, Haley Spades and Angelina Lati steal their siblings' boyfriends and discover that they fit perfectly. Order Barely Legal #187: My Sister's Boyfriend today by calling 800-763-8271 ext. 7651.

LILY THAI

TASTE TREAT

HUSTLER CLASSIC
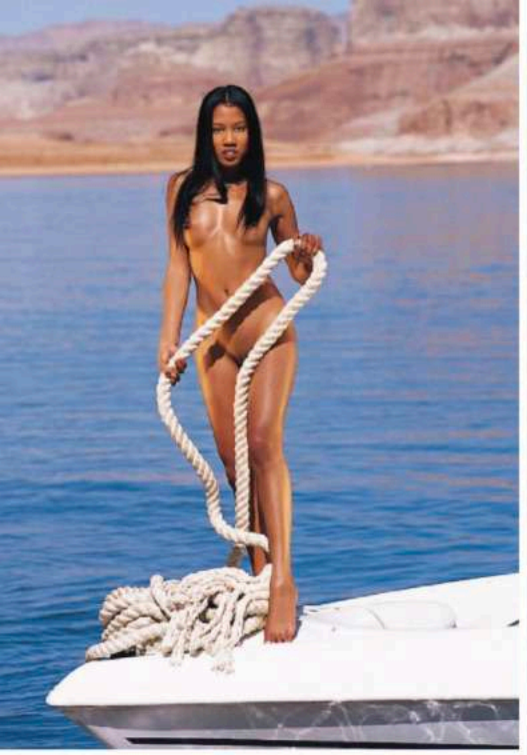
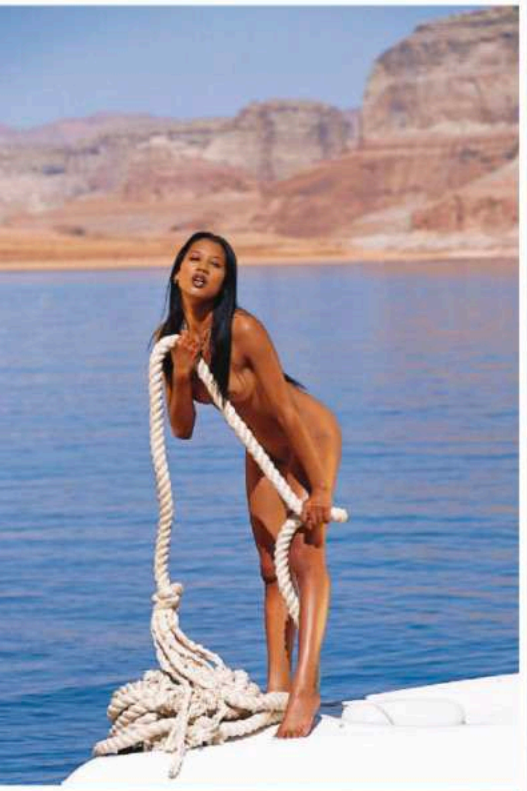
PHOTOGRAPHY BY
MATTI KLATT

MagDownload.org





Now, here's a Texas temptress who readily fesses up to being "very open." That's obvious when the 23-year-old is asked to reveal her favorite pastime and she quickly replies, "Sucking dicks! I can't keep 'em out of my mouth. If giving blowjobs were an Olympic event, I'd be the gold medalist!" Now, there's a competition we'd watch.

When not mouthing a man, luscious Lily enjoys playing guitar, collecting coins and cruising around her new hometown, Los Angeles. She especially likes traveling to the ocean: "Being around water is the best. I feel so peaceful in it."

Her newest hobby is knitting. "I've only made half a sweater so far," she discloses. "When it comes to knitting, I just can't seem to finish anything." When it comes to Lily, we'd have no problem finishing.
